socket connection via VB.NET or C#? I'm trying to build a simple server, but I'm having a bit of trouble. The problem is I'm trying to figure out how to test to see if a socket connection has been established before I send anything. In the below example, I try to send 'Hello, World' through the port 9898. However, the socket will not connect unless I specify the port number I'm listening on
